STOCK EXCHANGE CONTINUES DULL

Speculators Not Inclined to Buy on Eve of Three-Day Holiday.

MANY RUMORS SET GOING

ONE OF THEM TO THE EFFECT THAT MORGAN WAS ILL.

New York, May 27 .- The eve of a three-day holiday on the stock exchange is never conducive to much activity. The stock market, besides, has been lapsing toward dullness and neglect by a process of uncertain and nar-lect by a process of uncertain and narrowing fluctuations, which are characteristic of the market when in purely professional hands.

The activity of the first hour was due to a rumor of the illness of J. P. Morgan, which originated in Chicago. Meantime Mr. Morgan is in Paris and was in cable communication today with business associates in New York. The circulation of false rumors is held generally to signify activity by a bear party.

The subtlety of speculation is capable, however, of stimulating bear activity for the purpose of inviting supporting orders by interested powers, which may thus facilitate desired liquidation. Whatever the real purpose of the early operations, they were discontinued soon and the proceedings for the rest of the day were almost devoid of interest.

The lack of response to the formal announcement of the sale of St. Paul bonds in France to the amount of $250.000,000 francs brought out some Irofessions of disappointment. The fact need not cause surprise when it is considered that this bond sale has been a constant subject of stock market discussion and of stock market influence for weeks.

The mere fact that news of the trans action was allowed to become public at so early a stage of the negotiations affords a broad intimation of the spec-ulative use that it was sought to make of the incident.

The speculative effect of it was The speculative effect of it was found to be exhausted.

The rout of the bull party in wheat is expected to have important results, if it has served to bring about the natural conditions in that market. The awakening of expert demand will be awakening of export demand will be watched for with interest.

The course of the cotton market is equally interesting to the stock market element. The fact that the Fail River cotton mills will close down all next week shows the bearing of the cotton market position on the general industrial situation.

industrial situation.

The slightly firmer tone of the money market this week lends interest to the showing to be made by the bank statement to be published while the stock exchange is in recess. Over a million deliars has gone out to Canthe stock exchange is in recess. Over a million dollars has gone out to Can-ada this week and the movement to interior has been against New York. "There is improvement noticeable in business conditions all over the Unit-"There is improvement noticeable in business conditions all over the United States. The prospects for large crops are getting better all the time and, if good harvests are obtained, fairly prosperous conditions will continue to prevail," says John C. Cutler, jr., in his weekly market letter.

"There may not be any further shipments of gold to Europe for the present, as there have been recessions in foreign exchange rates lately.

"Locally, business in many lines continues fairly active, while in others it is of normal proportions. There is ample money available for all legitimate purposes.

mate purposes.

"Reports from the country regarding crop conditions are favorable, as the irrigated fields and farms throughout the state look splendid. But rains are needed very much on the dry farms, and hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of grain, etc., would be saved if a general downpour all over "The sheepmen have obtained a heavy clip of good quality wool, and are able to dispose of their surplus sheep at fair prices.

"Local securities have been dealt in at market prices during the week.
